RAILWAY STATION AT STORMED CITY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

SEVERAL KILLED—NO OTHER EXCITEMENT AFTER REBELS TAKE FLIGHT.

MYSTERY AS TO FIRE CAUSE

Dead Bodies Carried Away After Flames Are Subdued—United States Will Send Troops to Naco.

Agua Prieta, Sonora, Mex., April 20.—Aside from the burning of the railroad station in Agua Prieta and the destruction of its contents, together with several freight cars standing behind the place, there has been no excitement, the insurgents who were fired upon in the afternoon having disappeared during the night.

One report has it that the depot, while being used as a temporary hospital, accidentally caught fire and burned to the ground, and another is that insurgents slipped in and fired the place and that the soldiers shot four of them. Dead bodies were carried away after the fire. Which of the reports is true is not known.

The column of insurgents which was swinging around into the Nacozari valley when darkness fell, could not be seen in the morning. The column observed at the mouth of a mountain pass leading toward Cananea had also disappeared.

Couriers report that 250 rebels who have arrived at Cienizas Springs, east of here, are not composed of refugees from Agua Prieta. The force is said to have been Tarahumari Indian scouts, indicating that they came from Chihuahua.

United States troops are expected to reinforce the garrison at Naco, where a rebel attack is expected.

PREPARE TO TAKE JAUREZ

Correspondent Visits Bauche and Views Actions of Insurrectos.

El Paso, Tex., April 20.—A correspondent returned from Bauche, where the insurgents were disarmed. Thirty cars and a locomotive steaming and ready to move were seen. Twelve or thirteen insurgents in charge said the main army had advanced into the hills surrounding Juarez. The fact that the train was still there was proof that they had not marched south again. None could be seen in the hills at the time the correspondent was there.

This movement would indicate preparations to attack in a few hours, as the insurgents are disarmed and have no provisions. They must take Juarez if they would eat. A report is prevalent in Juarez that a demand has been made by Madero on General Navarro to surrender. This report was later found to be authentic, and action is expected.

GOES TO PREPARE PEACE

Garza About to Visit Madero's Camp with Proposals from Dr. Gomez.

El Paso, Tex., April 20.—Frederico Gonzales Garza, secretary general of the Mexican revolutionary junta, is planning to go to Madero's camp at Sapello Guzman or Bauche to carry peace proposals from Dr. Vasquez Gomez of Washington.

Secretary Garza admitted getting messages from Dr. Gomez and said that he had sent them on to Madero and that he would go himself to consult with Madero some time soon, in the interest of the peace movement started by Dr. Gomez. Secretary Garza says that he received word from Madero saying that the messages had been received by the provisional president.

GREAT FANE DEDICATED

Part of Cathedral of St. John the Divine Consecrated.

Religious Structure in New York, Finest on Continent, to Be Done in 75 Years.

New York, April 20.—For four hours and a half the springtime sun shone through the ground glass windows of all there is at present of the Protestant Episcopal cathedral church of St. John the Divine and lit the progress of the greatest religious structure of this half of the world one stage further. It will be seventy-five years before the cathedral is completed at the present rate, but the choir was consecrated as well as two memorial chapels. So religious services will be held there just as if they were in the complete finished Gothic-Romanesque pile. The sun went behind the cloud at 3 o'clock and it was then that the long services, begun at 10:30, came to an end. There had even been consecration services for the chapels as early as 9 o'clock in the morning and music followed the service of the afternoon. So it was late in the day before the celebration ended. Many persons left the church before the main service was finished, so long did they find the stretch of more than four hours. But the church was still crowded when the bishop pronounced the benediction.

BOYS SKIN FOR WOUNDS AT RATE OF $10 PER INCH

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 20.—Up to date $230 is the sum expended by Henry Prough of La Grange, who is offering $10 a square inch for human cuticle to be grafted on his own body to repair injuries suffered in an accident two weeks ago when he was burned about the body and legs and surgeons from this city who are attending the case say the end of Mr. Prough's purchases is not in sight, for a good many additional inches of skin will be necessary to cover the burned portions of his body.

Two men have already yielded up a total of 23 inches of skin to Mr. Prough at the $10 rate, and are in the market for considerable more at the same rate.

CANNON OPPOSES PET BILL OF PRESIDENT TAFT

Washington, April 20.—Former Speaker Cannon in the house vigorously assailed Canadian reciprocity. Aided by a large map of the United States and Canada, he played the role of a schoolmaster to a crowded floor and filled galleries.

Mr. Cannon attacked the proposed agreement as dangerous to American trade, inimical to the best interests of American farmers and certain to result in depreciation of American farm lands.

Representative Guder of North Carolina, a Democrat, also opposed the bill. Representative Richardson of Alabama, Harry and Dies of Texas, Democrats, and Hubbard of Iowa, Republican, spoke for the bill, which went over without action.

Washington, April 20.—The majority report of the ways and means committee on the so-called farmers' free list bill, submitted to the house by Chairman Underwood, is a merger of Democratic political argument and an analysis of the proposed duty exemptions.

The report shows that the bill would reduce the tariff revenue $10,016,495, based on the importations for the last fiscal year, an amount described as "inconsiderable as compared with the great saving and advantages to all our people from the additions to the free list provided for."

Quoting President Taft's recent Canadian reciprocity speeches, the report seeks to convey the impression that the administration is convinced that protective tariff rates are too high.

The reciprocity agreement, the committee asserts, cannot afford the American people all the needed relief from high prices.

The report takes up in detail the classified list of articles included in the free list bill. Regarding agricultural implements it says their manufacture is controlled by trusts and combinations that have sold in foreign countries at lower prices than at home, building up their foreign trade from $3,895,184 in 1900 to $28,124,033 in 1910.

Packing and baling materials, essential in the transportation of agricultural products, the report says, can not receive benefits of protection in home markets and duties on them "have annoyed and burdened the farmers to add to the profits of exacting trusts and combinations."

Concerning hoops, ties and bands of iron and steel, barbed wire for fencing, etc., the report says that the high duties make the people dependent upon the giant steel industry, which for

FORMER RANGER GIVES HIGHWAYMAN A WARM RECEPTION

Culpeper, Va., April 20.—J. H. Judd, a veteran of Colonel John S. Mosby's famous Rangers and ex-sheriff of Culpeper, shot down a highwayman while the latter had him covered. Mr. Judd was driving to Culpeper in his buggy and, while passing through a dark wood, two masked men appeared. One bandit seized Mr. Judd's horse while the other ordered: "Hand over your pocketbook and be quick." Mr. Judd, reaching in his pocket, drew a revolver, pushed it into the highwayman's breast and fired. At the same instant the robber fired upon Mr. Judd and the ball passed through his hat. The second bandit released the horse to assist his comrade and the horse ran away, with Mr. Judd firing over the back of his rig.

Hammond Extends Boundary.

years has sold products abroad lower than to the domestic consumers," and declares that placing them on the free list will be "a long delayed measure of equality and justice."

The placing on the free list of all forms of leather from cattle hides and skins, together with boots, shoes, harness, saddlery, etc., the committee argues, will be of advantage in manufacturing and necessarily of benefit to agricultural producers as well as to all the people.

The "beef trust" is assailed in discussion of the free listing of fresh meats and meat products. "The existing duties on meats and meat products," it is asserted, "are for the advantage of this combination only"—a combination that "controls the markets both in buying and selling, and the result is a substantial addition to the high cost of living from which the people suffer."

Removal of duties on these products, it is argued, will place the farmers in a free market as to food stuffs and food products. For the reason that the public desire "that no artificial shelter shall be maintained to protect abnormally high prices on food articles in any form," the bill also seeks exemption from duty on wheat, flour, semolina, rye flour, buckwheat flour, cornmeal and all prepared cereal foods, biscuits, bread, and similar articles not sweetened.

In discussing free lumber placed in the bill, hardwood exempted, the report maintains that the ownership of timber in this country has become practically a monopoly and has passed for the most part into the hands of great corporations and interests which are speculating on the increasing scarcity.

JOLIET POLITICIAN SHOT

The shooting is said to have been an outgrowth of the recent election.

MODEL ELECTION LAW IS PASSED

BILL EMBODIES NEW REFORM IDEAS OF GOV. WILSON OF NEW JERSEY.

GERMAN FOLLOWS MEASURE THROUGH AND PRESENTS IT TO GOVERNOR.

RIGID CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT

Two Measures, if Latter is Made Into Law, Will Give State Most Advanced Form of Legislation on This Line.

Trenton, N. J., April 20.—The Geran election bill, embodying Governor Wilson's idea of primary and election reform, has become a law. After the senate amendments had been unanimously concurred in by the house Mr. Geran followed the bill through the hands of the various officials and presented it in person to the governor. The bill was signed immediately upon presentation and Mr. Geran took the pen used by the governor as a souvenir.

Almost at the moment that the governor was signing the Geran bill the senate passed a drastic corrupt practices act agreed upon at a previous conference. As approved by the senate it practically prohibits the expenditure of any money on election day. If voters are transported to the polls it must be done at public expense upon an order from the court obtained at least fourteen days before election. The application for such an order must show that the persons to be taken to the polls live at least two miles from the polling place, that there is no trolley line they could use within half a mile of their residence and that they possess no means of transportation themselves. All of these facts must be subscribed to by the prospective voters.

In addition to bills limits, according to the office to be filled, the size of the political contribution which may be made by any individual toward the election of a candidate.

Similarly it limits the amount which a candidate may spend in his own behalf and makes it a misdemeanor to fail to make an official return of expenditures by any candidate. The bill is said to be, and probably not without reason, the most drastic piece of legislation of its kind in any state.

STEAMER ON THE ROCKS

Portuguese Vessel Strikes Near Cape of Good Hope.

Eight Hundred Persons Taken Off by British Warship, Eight Perishing During Transfer.

Cape Town, South Africa, April 20.—The Portuguese mail steamer Lusitania went on Bellows rock, two miles west of the Cape of Good Hope. Her passengers and crew were taken off by the British warship Forte and a government tug. Bodies found on shore.

Eight persons were drowned during the transfer of the 800 people from the wreck to the Forte. Those lost were four men, two women and two children, occupants of two small boats which capsized. Their companions were rescued.

The Lusitania was bound from Mozambique for Lisbon when she struck on the sunken rock. There is no hope of saving the vessel.

MUSIC SUPERVISORS ATTEND CONFERENCE IN DETROIT—GUESTS AT NORMAL

The Music Supervisors National Conference, of which Miss Clyde Foster of Ypsilanti is secretary, is holding its fourth annual meeting in Detroit from April 19 to 21. The sessions will take place in the assembly hall of the Hotel Pontchartrain. The work of this conference is devoted exclusively to public school music and that of colleges and normal schools. It is national in its scope and it will doubtless be some time before its meeting place will be so near Ypsilanti again, as its entertainment has come to be a warmly contested matter.

The fact that Miss Foster, the secretary, is the director of music in the Michigan Normal College training school, will make Ypsilanti one of the places to be visited by the conference guests. Tuesday en route to Detroit Miss Stella Root, the vice-president, who is director of music in the Chicago University, and Miss Hootman, of the music department of the Kalamazoo Normal and an assistant of Miss Marsh, visited the Normal training school. Later in the week all the visitors will come out to Ypsilanti and visit Miss Foster's department.

FURNITURE STRIKE ON

Between 6,000 and 7,000 Men Out in Grand Rapids.

Workmen Demanded a 10 Per Cent Increase in Wages, Which Manufacturers Refused.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 20.—The long expected strike of the furniture workers of Grand Rapids, which has been hanging fire for several weeks while a committee of citizens has endeavored to bring about an understanding between manufacturers and men, was declared on at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Union men in nearly sixty factories, including woodworking shops, packed their tools and walked out. Between 6,000 and 7,000 men, including varnishers and finishers, as well as cabinet makers, carvers and woodworkers, went out. Three thousand other employees, who are not unionized, are affected by the strike.

The strike came as the result of the manufacturers' refusal in a communication to the citizens' committee of inquiry to grant concessions to the men. The men asked a 10 per cent increase in wages, a nine-hour day and abolition of piece work. The manufacturers declare they will continue to treat with their men individually, but refuse to grant an increase in wages, basing their refusal on trade conditions.

Serves Ultimatum on Warring Forces in Mexico.

TAFT IS EXPECTED TO GIVE IN

Will Grant Demands of the Rebels for an Armistice Rather Than Have United States Troops Intervene in the War.

Washington, April 20.—"Peace or intervention by the United States" is the ultimatum which President Taft in effect has served on the Mexican government and the armed forces in rebellion against President Diaz.

Already the flat has had its effect. An armistice is in prospect, with peace negotiations planned during its continuance. If these fail to end the war the American soldiers, stationed all along the international boundary, will probably be ordered into Mexico and peace will be effected by force of arms.

Before American intervention is deemed necessary it is believed President Diaz will grant the demands of the rebels. To date he has indicated a willingness to do nothing more than treat with the rebels.

On the other hand the insurgents have expressed a purpose to modify their original demands. They are willing Diaz shall remain president until a new election can be held, thus to avoid humiliating him. Insistence, however, on an election that shall be entirely free from governmental influences is set forth by them.

These facts have been brought out through President Taft using his good offices to effect peace. He has been transmitting proposals between the Diaz government and the insurgents and he intends to continue this policy either until the rebels lay down their arms or until the United States is forced to intervene to protect American lives and property.

BARBER SHOP IS ENTERED—$12 GONE—LOCALS SUSPECTED

Harner Brothers' barber shop was broken into by burglars between the hours of 2 and 7 o'clock Wednesday morning and $12.00 in money taken. The entrance was made through a door connecting with the Hawkins House by means of a wedge being inserted and raising the hook which fastened the door. A number of razors belonging to the Harner brothers were taken from their places and spread out on a towel evidently in readiness to be taken with the burglars, but whether the thieves were frightened away before they accomplished their purpose, or not is not known.

The lock of the money drawer was picked and $12.00 in all taken. No clue as to the identity of the thieves is in the hands of the officers as yet but it is their opinion that the theft was committed by local talent.

D. U. R. ADMIT BLAME FOR HOLE IN BRIDGE

The toll of injuries which the fine big horse of J. E. Engle suffered Tuesday, when a plank beneath the D. U. R. tracks gave way beneath him on the Congress street bridge, promises to be considerable. The cords on the hind hook, where the lacerations were deepest, and the knees on both front and back legs are swollen, so it is difficult to reckon yet just to what extent the animal is hurt.

Mr. Engle states that he has been called upon by a D. U. R. representative who admitted that with them lay the responsibility for the accident. A report will be sent to headquarters, but Mr. Engle cannot tell definitely how great his loss is until the swelling subsides and it is ascertained to what extent the horse is bleached. The horse is ten years old and weighs 1700 pounds.

"PROTECT CLEAN SPORT"—AND CLEAN CITIZENSHIP.

The Detroit News a few days ago contained the following editorial, entitled, "Protect clean sport":

"Base ball officials do well to show alarm at the proposal to make the national game a medium for betting. There is no surer method of corrupting the players and thereby killing interest in the game for all but the gamblers. Twenty years ago the movement was well under way for this disastrous conversion. In hotel lobbies, saloons, cigar stores and many other places where men resort it was the fashion to post blackboards and name the odds for each team on every playing day. In addition combination pools were made by which the better who could pick several or all of the winners of the day could win a pot of money. But the law stepped in and forbade the practice and it died out. During the past three years of intensified interest in base ball blackboards for posting results have come into very common use. Incidentally sporting men have quietly made bets on the results of the day until such gaming became the habitual practice of a few inveterate gamblers.

But let the practice become common and syndicated interests would attempt to secure control of the game. Let that take place and the manipulators would determine in advance the results of each day's playing quite as surely as the policy operators and horse gamblers did in their respective departments. Base ball is a game which, by its peculiar character, gives the typical American intense enjoyment.

The charm of the game lies partly in the skill of the players and partly in the uncertainties which attend it. To make it a game of decreed results would mean to kill all healthy interest in it; to bring it under the ban of the law and to cut off gradually the attendance until the huge stands and pavilions erected for accommodation of the patrons would be destroyed."

Let us have clean sport, to be sure, and for the sake of the sport. But let us have it also for the larger and better reason that it may contribute to clean citizenship. It is vastly more important that cleanliness attach to and obtain in the home and the shop and the factories, the bank, in the places of business and on the farm—in short throughout the entire warp and woof of our citizenship—than it is that it should obtain during the few hours of recreation which our people employ. For the character of life itself depends upon its serious side more largely than its frivolous side, for the very sufficient reason that the serious side monopolizes the greater part of the time and makes it possible for our having a so-called frivolous side.

Recreation and sport are essential to healthy citizenship. But sport should be clean. The playground should be kept inviolate of the encroachments of the gambling spirit. It seems already to be of more interest to the base ball enthusiasts to cater to the growing gambling instincts than it does to enjoy an uncorrupted game well played and decided distinctively upon the merits of the play itself. The gambling habit grows rapidly, and in proportion as it attaches does it make of him who harbors it a boarder in the community, a mere absorber, and not a producer.

The state is more interested in the suppression of everything which contributes to the gambling habit than base ball enthusiasts can possibly be for in proportion as a man is encouraged to get something for nothing does he continue to build up a false hope, which robs him of his habits of industry and makes him a professional loafer in the community and endangers the security of the legitimate proceeds of industry in the hands of others. For the sake of clean citizenship, as well as clean sport, keep every tendency to the encouraging of the gambling habit out of our sports and out of our streets and out of our civic life.

AMONG THE MAGAZINES

The liquor forces won in Genesee by a "wet" majority of only 81; in Jackson, by 32; in Calhoun by only 17. The "dry" majorities in the "wet" counties voting their saloons out were seven times as great as the "wet" majorities in the counties going back. Out of the eleven dry counties voting we held eight and then captured two from the wets. We kept 160 saloons from reinstatement and put 48 more out of business.—The American Issue

A very curious result of the slow change of level going on at various points of the earth's surface is the gradual tipping up of the shores of Hudson Bay, just as if some gigantic power were engaged in an attempt to empty that great basin of water into the adjoining sea. Examination shows that the shore is lined with old beaches of sand and gravel lying as high as fifty feet or more above the present level of the bay.—Scientific American.

There are a half million young men and women in Kansas over twenty-one years of age who have never seen a saloon in that state; there is not a Kansas newspaper which publishes a liquor advertisement; one-third of the counties of Kansas have not a prisoner in their jails nor a pauper in their poorhouses; one-half the counties of Kansas did not send a convict to the penitentiary last year; Kansas stands first in the per capita valuation of assessed property.—The American Issue.

Summer Care of the Poultry.

By H. L. Kempster, Professor of Poultry Husbandry, of the M. A. C.

POULTRY should be raised on every farm. There is always a lot of waste material that a hen can make use of, and it is by the utilization of this to the best advantage that one can make the most out of his work and in the raising of chickens this end should be kept in view.

One of the problems that confront the farmer is the raising of young stock during the summer. It is really the easiest of his problems if he takes advantage of his opportunities. The trouble is that the chickens are generally kept up around the farm building where the grass gets tough and sour. This is usually the same yard chickens have had in previous years, and it is more or less filthy. A chicken cannot grow to a good advantage under these conditions, and, unless conditions are different than upon most farms, both young and old are permitted to run together, which is a disadvantage for both. The thing to do with your young stock is to take it out away from the influence of the farm yards, where it can grow.

As soon as the chicks can take care of themselves put them in small portable houses than can be hauled from one portion of the farm to another. The orchard or corn field makes an ideal place to grow chickens. A combination sod and soil run is preferred to a complete sod, as chickens do better under those conditions.

Also see that the chickens have plenty of shade out on the range; the corn affords this, and also shelter from hawks. A hawk would have a hard time catching a chicken in a patch of corn.

The house can be almost any type one may desire. The one shown is 7½x12 ft., 4 ft. in the rear, 6 ft. in front. The windows, which are removed in the summer, are nine light, 9x12 glass, placed 18 inches from the floor. The house is built on 4x4 runners and can be hauled from one place on the farm to another. It makes a good load for a team, but one team can handle it all right if one uses judgment. Besides it is a convenient size for use as a breeding pen, so that it is a very useful house all the year.

About July 1, depending upon the age of the chicks, remove them to the range. Keep feed and water before them all the time. Keep their roosts free from mites, and clean the coop twice a week. The feed can consist of corn and wheat with a dry mash composed of equal parts bran, middling and corn meal. This can be fed in hoppers and kept before them all the time. One can make use of the wheat or barley fields during the summer, after the grain is cut, to a good advantage. Care should then be taken to see that shade is supplied and that the chicks have a place in which to hide from hawks.

By getting the chickens out away from the farm buildings they can be raised cheaper and better. They will be more vigorous and healthier, and one is surprised at the ease with which farm poultry can be raised under these conditions.

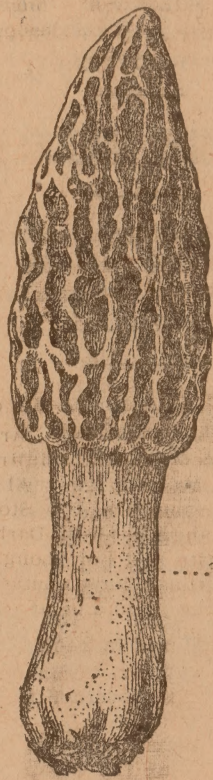

The orchard, corn field or portions of the garden can be utilized to a good advantage, and a crop of chickens can be grown on the same ground as another crop with a mutual benefit to both, and, while two blades are not growing where one used to grow, two crops are, which is equally beneficial to the person who employs this practice.

Edible Mushrooms.

By Professor R. J. Baldwin of the M. A. C.

THE mushrooms and other fleshy fungi will soon be found in abundance growing in door yards, fields and woods. These plants are especially numerous during the spring and autumn months and whenever there is a plentiful rainfall during the summer. Some people gather them for food, but usually they are passed by and left for worms, or scattered with a kick.

It is well-known that some fungi are edible and others are poisonous, and the request is often made for some rule to distinguish the one from the other. In spite of the fact that there are many rules believed to be reliable by many otherwise well informed people, no such rule or easy test can be given. "The only safe way is to learn, before using any mushroom for food, to recognize it by its botanical characters or at least become so familiar with its appearance that can be recognized under all circumstances." This may be done by getting the information from someone already informed, or from the study of carefully drawn illustrations.

The conical morel (shown in the cuts) is one of the most easily distinguished and delicious mushrooms. The cap (a) is considerably longer than broad; in some cases very narrow and pointed, in others broad and conical. The ridges extend from base to apex, being connected at intervals by smaller ridges and forming long, narrow pits. The brownish drab cap is wholly attached to the white hollow stem (b), thus having no free margin. This mushroom sometimes occurs in orchards, but is apt to be found in low woods and along their margins. It often appears in April, even before the frosts have ceased.

Puff balls are an interesting group of edible fleshy fungi. Every one is familiar with the dust-filled, cotton-stuffed balls, but only a few are aware of the fact that they are delicious and safe for food. They must be used when young, the inside being solid, white and resembling cottage cheese in appearance.

"In collecting morels and puff balls, or any other fungi intended for eating, discard all specimens that are over-mature or infested with larvae. One should be perfectly white inside when broken open. Any discoloration or wateriness should be taken as a sign of approaching ripeness, and, although not necessarily poisonous in this condition, they develop bitter and unpleasant flavors, unfitting them for use as food."

"Happy the people that love thee! Happy the people whose God is Jehovah."—Psalm 144:15.

WHEN God accepted Israel to be his people, he entered into a Covenant or agreement with them. He gave them the Law, represented in the Ten Commandments, as the basis of the Covenant which Moses mediated. Israel agreed to be faithful to God, and to keep those commandments perfectly. And God agreed that in that event he would bless them; they should be his people, and by doing the things contained in the Law should live everlastingly, not die. Not only so, but he promised to bless them in all the temporal affairs of life.

Israel failed to get these blessings, for the same reason that any other people would have failed; namely, because God's Law is perfect, the measure of a perfect man's ability: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, being and strength; and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Hence, the Israelites continued to die, as their fathers had done, and as all mankind die—not being able to keep the Divine Law perfectly.

Happy Is That People

In our lesson the Prophet David pictures the holy, happy, blessed nation of the Lord. It is a picture of the future and not of the past. It is an ideal picture. It will be realized when Messiah's Kingdom shall have been established amongst men—when Satan's power shall be restrained, when he shall be bound, when the blessings of Restoration shall have uplifted mankind from sin and degradation and shall have brought them back to the image and likeness of God lost in Eden, but reacquired for our race through the sacrifice on Calvary.

But that happy nation will acquire additionally, a happy home and world-wide Paradise. Even human perfection would not bring happiness if cyclones, tornadoes, blizzards, tidal waves, earthquakes, famines and pestilences continued. Thank God, the Bible's assurances are that the blessing of the Lord shall be, not only upon mankind, but upon all their earthly home. The earth shall yield her increase. The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad and blossom as the rose. The Lord will make his footstool glorious.—Acts 3:19-21; Isa. 11:9; 65:25; Ezek. 37; Isa. 35:1; 60:13.

Particulars Given by the Prophet

Incidental to the blessed condition of the holy nation of the future, the Prophet mentions a deliverance from strange children: "Rid me and deliver me from the hands of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and whose right hand is the right hand of falsehood."—Psa. 144:11.

In the Church of the present Age there are some whom the Apostle styles "bastards," or strange children. All may make the same profession and confession, but "the Lord knoweth them that are his," and in his due time shall separate the false or strange children from the true and will glorify the saints as members of the great Messiah, The Christ. Then will come the time for dealing with humanity in general—the time described in our text, when humanity in general, under the Messianic Kingdom, will be privileged to become the holy and happy people of God—when Satan and sin will be banished and righteousness and Truth will flourish and the knowledge of the glory of the Lord will fill the whole earth.

The great Messiah undertakes to be the world's Life-Giver, Father, Regenerator. All mankind will be awakened from the tomb and have the opportunity for regeneration and full attainment of human perfection and God-likeness. However, for quite a time there will be strange children amongst men—those who will experience the blessings of that glorious time without giving proper heart responses. Not until the world shall have been rid of these by their dying the Second Death, will the fullness of happiness prevail amongst the children of men.

"Times of Refreshing Shall Come, and He Shall Send Jesus Christ"

"Then your sons will be like plants, grown up in their youth; your daughters like corner-pillars sculptured in the model of a palace." The grace and beauty of the children of Messiah, partakers of human Restoration blessings (Acts 3:19-21), will be marvelous.

Then the gamers will be full, furnishing all manner of provisions. Then your sheep will bring forth thousands and tens of thousands in your open pastures.

Then there will be no migration—no further seeking for better or more happy conditions. Then there will be no complaining in our streets. Discontent is now rapidly increasing with every added blessing of our wonderful day. The difficulty lies in the fact that sin and selfishness are reigning in the hearts and minds of men. Under the wonderfully changed conditions of Messiah's Kingdom, peace, happiness, contentment will take the place of selfishness and discontent.

Irish Colleens Come to Show
How to Make Laces and Rugs

Copyright by American Press Association.

FOUR pretty Irish girls have just arrived in the United States to show us how to make lace, weave rugs and do embroidery, cut work and leather carving. Incidentally they will give an exhibition of personal politeness that will be worth seeing, for these colleens are undeniably beautiful, and they will be as interesting and as attractive as the work they do. The girls were brought from Ireland by the Gaelic league, and they are to visit all the large cities in this country. In the picture printed above the colleens, reading from left to right, are Bridget McLaughlin, Marian J. O'Shea, Eileen Noone and Bridget Quinn. Miss O'Shea is in charge of the party, and she is the one who describes the wonders of handicraft that the others turn out. They are not a bit vain of their beauty, but they show considerable pride in their craftsmanship. They hope to prove by exhibiting their work that it would be better for girls to revive the ancient arts and crafts of Ireland than to wear out their lives over machines in dingy factories. Colleen Quinn is an expert lacemaker, and she can describe as well as construct the Irish crochet, Limerick and Carrickmacross varieties. Colleen McLaughlin weaves rugs, some of those she produces requiring a month in the loom to weave a square yard. Eileen Noone does the embroidery and leather work, and during her spare moments she turns out off paintings that correctly reproduce the beautiful Irish landscapes. The girls say they are not militant suffragettes, and all but Miss Noone said they had no desire to vote. Miss Noone said she would like to have the ballot, and, she added, "I don't believe the women would make any worse mess of politics than the men have." She expressed surprise at the height of New York's skyscrapers and said she would be afraid to go to the top of them.

"I think I can safely lay claim to having hauled more wood into Rockland than any other one man," says Otis Tolman of Rockville. "I have been at it sixty years, hauling an average of 200 loads a year with an average of seven feet to the load. I brought my first load into town behind a pair of steers in 1850 and sold it to the late S. H. Burrage for two dollars a cord."—Kennebec Journal.

This picture shows why Jackson <sup>stiff</sup> Stay Fence is the best. The Stay wires are made from the same gauge (size) hard steel wire as the laterals. The Jackson knot is made from the same material and holds both in a grip that never loosens. The whole fence is stiff and strong, and being made with mechanical accuracy it always "sets right." Goes up or down hill as smoothly as on the level. No uneven line wires.

Social D. of H. Meeting.
The Degree of Honor met socially Tuesday evening at the home of W. J. Bell on Hamilton street. About thirty were there. The company played school in an utterly original fashion. First the possibilities of the alphabet were explored. "What letter is a vegetable?" That's easy: P. "What letter is an insect?" B, etc. Turning to arithmetic, 500 plus a large boat equaled without light. Answer, dark. One of the geography questions was "What state is a father?" Pa. was the answer. In physiology it developed that "two musical instruments in the body" were ear drums. In composition each had to finish out a certain classic with two original lines at the end. One product read as follows:

"Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow;
But Mary never got a man
Because she was too slow."

After this exercise of ingenuity and some music ice cream and cake were served for refreshing the weary scholars.

Pleasant Surprise.

Mrs. S. King of River street was surprised by thirty-five of her friends Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday. The first of the evening was spent in playing progressive pedro and the ladies' prizes were won by Mrs. Daniel Dolby, first; Mrs. Robert Howe, second, and third by Mrs. Geo. Fulton. The gentlemen's prizes were won by Judson King, first; Wm. Young, second, and consolation by George Fulton. Light refreshments were served. The remainder of the evening was passed in dancing. Mrs. King was presented with a beautiful back comb by her guests. Mrs. Sincroch of Rochester, Michigan, was present.

Big Pythian Meeting.

The Pythian Sisters held a very interesting meeting last evening, at which eight delegates from the Plymouth temple were present. The local team put on the initiatory work in a very creditable manner, and this served as a sort of school of instruction for the visitors, as the temple in Plymouth was commenced only about a year ago. After the regular work of this kind was completed, short speeches were made by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Touney and Mr. Gates of Plymouth along the line of work of the order. Ice cream, cake and salted peanuts were served later. On May 3 the Ypsilanti teams go to Milan to put on their work.

A Birthday Reminder.

Louis DeNike of Oak street was given a surprise Tuesday evening by seventeen couple, the occasion being his birthday. Cards furnished the amusement for the evening and the ladies' prizes were captured by Mrs. Jay Root and Mrs. Joseph Block. The gentlemen's prizes were won by Anthony Schulz and Albert DeNike, after which luncheon was served. Before leaving the guests presented Mr. DeNike with an oak rocker.

Letter Says They're Safe.

A letter received Tuesday from Mrs. A. Roy Wrenn, living in Taviche in the state of Oasaca in Mexico, and well known here, is of a very reassuring character. Their home is so far south that they were scarcely conscious of the troublous times through which the country has been passing. They have no intention of trying to come north.

Missionary Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Missionary Society of the Baptist church which was to have been held at the home of Mrs. Marshall Pettit this afternoon has been postponed till next week (Thursday). Mrs. Dr. Goo of Detroit, who was to have been present and give an informal talk, was unable to be present this week.

Study Club.

The Ypsilanti Study club met Wednesday with Mrs. L. L. James on Ellis street. Ten were present. Mrs. A. E. Parkins gave a paper on "Norwegian Sports." Mrs. George Alban read a clever paper on Grief, which she read several years ago before the Detroit Review club on "president's day."

Last of Series.

The last of the series of parties given by the young married people of the east side was held at the Macabee hall Wednesday evening. Twenty-five couple were in attendance. Refreshments were served. Three pieces of Killian's orchestra furnished the music.

Give Stocking Social.

A stocking social will be given at the M. E. church Friday evening to which a general invitation is issued to all interested. A program has been prepared and refreshments will be served.

Lansing Lady Will Lecture.

Mrs. N. B. Perry of Lansing will lecture before the Ypsilanti Woman's club on "Michigan and Its History," early in May. Mrs. Perry is chairman of the Pioneer Historical society of the state with headquarters at Lansing.

Storm Interferes.

The number of ladies that braved the rainstorm Wednesday to attend the Ypsilanti Woman's club at the Masonic Temple was so small that the program was not taken up, and this meeting will be omitted altogether.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Ypsilanti Citizens Show the Certain Way Out.

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what an Ypsilanti citizen says:

Charles Fletcher, 415 W. Congress St., Ypsilanti, Mich., says: "As the result of kidney trouble, my health became much run down. I was bothered a great deal by pains in the small of my back and kidney's and I attributed my complaint to constant riding on the wagon. When I was on my feet I did not notice the trouble so much. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and highly colored. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills I was led to procure a box at Weinmann-Matthews Co.'s Drug Store and begin their use. I was careful to follow the directions closely and I received relief in a short time. Since then I have been in the best of health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
